Disciplining students is a walk on eggs. It is a necessary part of classroom management which has many pitfalls, some that are impossible to predict. When facing issues of discipline, teachers are always in a precarious spot. It is like each child must be disciplined in a unique way so as to develop the students into strong individuals.

-Ms Binny Gupta

Honestly, I had no inspiration at that time when I had to choose Teaching as a profession. Today however I can visualize things from a different perspective.

An Ideal student is an amalgamation of naughtiness and value system.
Certainly academic brilliance is not the criteria.

-Ms. Jyotsana Sharma
Middle & Secondary Deptt.Incharge

Honestly speaking, I struggle to define it. It felt natural to me to pursue this career instead of some other and I also believed that I had good predispositions for becoming a good teacher but it is difficult to point out one thing that inspired me in particular. Maybe you can say that my entire life inspired me- all I have been through, all people I have met, experiences I have accumulated over the years and as a result of which I felt a desire to become a teacher.

DEAR TEACHERS, WE LOVE YOU

You hold our hands,
and teach us how to walk,
You clutch us when we stumble,
and encourage us to talk.

You love us a lot, but yes sometimes scold,
Oh, we know why it is, to make us bold.

You pass on your knowledge to us,
And make us a good human being,
You sacrifice a lot for our well being.

Teaching is not just a job for you,
It's a game you play the best,
Help us climb up,
And achieve goals lying up the crest.

Always being with us through thick and thin,
You give us wings to fly,
And when we turn back to see where you are,
You are always standing by.
When we finally stand on our feet,
Out of happiness you cry,
Your anecdotes and words of wisdom always stay with us,
And never bid us good bye.

Hats off to these beautiful souls for the lovely things they do,
All we can say more than a 'Thank you' is teachers, we love you!

Teaching is scrutinized as one of the noblest vocation as it contributes a greater up skill citizenry to the sphere. Teachers are the ones who choose their day job to spread mastery and wisdom. Only educated workforces can up-bring the nation to the developed stage. For this one must be well drilled with proper guidance as well as visions. A teacher not merely teaches the students about lessons in the textbooks, but also moulds a child into a socially responsible living soul. They are the future shapers of the mind of the students. I would like to thank all the fabulous teachers for being there for us at all times.

Teachers' day is a very special day to celebrate the efforts of our life's guides. Teachers are the ones who guide us after our parents about right and wrong. They play a crucial role in shaping a student's character. They help in the reformation of a child without destination to a grown up with goals. They forgive our mistakes and help us in finding our better self.
