Tips for Positive & Effective Parenting

1. Create a Balanced Routine

- Limit screen time and replace it with hands-on play, conversation and outdoor time.
- Make a short outdoor activity part of your child's daily routine – a walk, a game or time in the garden.

2. Build Responsibility Through Small Tasks

- Encourage your child to water the plants every day. It teaches care and consistency
- Place a bowl of fresh water for birds or animals in a fixed spot. Let your child refill it daily and observe who comes to drink.

3. Model the Behaviour You Want to See

- Be mindful of the language you use around your child. Children learn by listening and often repeat what they hear with friends.
- Create a kind and respectful home environment. Avoid making fun of or criticizing others – whether it's a family member, friend, or teacher. This helps your child develop empathy and emotional well-being.

4. Nurture Values and Language Daily

- Introduce a simple habit like saying a short prayer or expressing gratitude before meals.
- Read aloud or narrate a short story with a moral every day. Storytelling builds language skills, imagination, and reinforces positive values.

Final note for parents:

Children don't need perfect lessons.
They need your time, attention and a safe space to explore.
Every small moment at home is a learning opportunity.

BLAST OFF: PAPER CUP SPACE ROCKETS

Turn a simple paper glass into a sky-high explorer in 5 minutes

What you need

- 1 paper cup/glass
- Cardstock or thick paper for fins + nose cone
- Straw or balloon pump for launching
- Scissors, tape, glue
- Markers/stickers to decorate
- Optional: rubber band + cardboard tube for a slingshot launcher

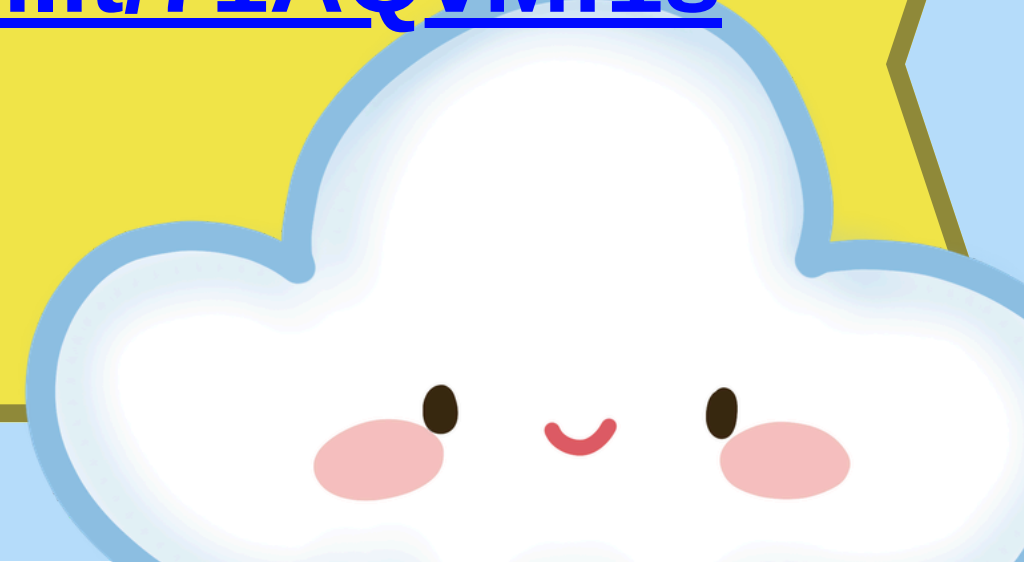

How to build it

1. Make the rocket body: Flip the paper cup upside down. This is your rocket.
2. Add a nose cone: Cut a circle from cardstock, cut a slit to the center, overlap into a cone, and tape it to the bottom of the cup.
3. Attach fins: Cut 3-4 triangle fins from cardstock. Tape them evenly around the open end of the cup so it stands stable.
4. Decorate: Give your rocket flames, windows, and a name. NASA would be proud.
5. Launch it:
 - Straw method: Poke a hole in the side of the cup, insert a straw, and blow hard.
 - Slingshot method: Loop a rubber band around a cardboard tube, hook it on the cup's rim, pull back, aim up and release.

OCEAN IN A BOTTLE: MY TINY UNDERWATER WORLD

What you need

- Clear plastic bottle with cap, like a small water or soda bottle
- Water
- Blue food colouring, 1-2 drops
- Baby oil or clear glue to thicken
- Small sea-themed items: plastic fish, shells, blue glitter, sequins, tiny pebbles

How to build it

1. Fill halfway: Pour water into the bottle until it's about 1/2 full. Add 1-2 drops of blue food colouring and swirl.
2. Add the ocean life: Let your child drop in shells, tiny plastic fish, glitter, and sequins. This is the fun sensory part.
3. Make waves: Top up the rest with baby oil or water mixed with clear glue. The oil/glue slows everything down for a calm, wavy effect.
4. Seal it tight: Dry the bottle rim, then an adult should glue the cap shut so there are no leaks.
5. Explore & learn: Tilt the bottle gently to watch the "ocean" move. Ask your child: What animals can you see? Do they sink or float? What happens when we shake it.
